Dear (Recipient's Name),

I ordered seat covers from your company. I was happy to receive my parcel quite early though to my utter surprise, the cover were not what I had ordered. I ordered for [enter what you ordered] while I received [enter what you received]. I am very much disappointed with your services. It could possibly be a mistake i know but I just did not like what happened to me. This is not merely a complaint letter. I am sending back these seat covers to you. Hopefully you'll receive the parcel soon. Please refund me so that I could buy the seat covers of my own choice from somewhere else. I don't want to extend my expectations with you but i will be happy to receive the shipping cost that i now have to spend on this return because after all, it was your mistake. Many thanks!
