Dear [recipient's name],

A day before, I heard from my kids that your school administration is making them to attend a seminar that them costs 120$ each. I am totally in disagreement with this call, firstly it's too sudden and there wasn't any notification sent to the parents regarding this seminar. Moreover this is costing way too much for just a couple of hour seminar and it's not possible for some parents to arrange this much for a ticket to the seminar that soon.

The situation is totally unjustifiable and even the students are unknown of the whole concept behind this. I totally disagree with this requirement and I refuse to allow my children to take part in this. From now on, it will be much appreciated if such type of seminars is notified to us beforehand. I know that other parents also hold the same opinion as me, and this letter also conveys their message to you. I hope that you will address the issue without any further delay.

Thank you very much.

Yours Sincerely,
